

Army University Press
Publication Agreement
(please type or print legibly)

Title of Manuscript:
Author's Name(s):

1. I hereby grant the Army University Press permission to publish the above manuscript electronically. I understand Army Press may edit my work for organization, conciseness, grammar conventions, and to conform to house-style and format. I will have an opportunity to review my article before publication.
2. The Army University Press is granted exclusive rights for first publication. This article is not being considered by another publication, either verbatim or substantially in this form.
3. The Army University Press is an official government publication in the public domain, though its content does not necessarily reflect official policy of any government agency. The Army University Press may translate this article into other languages for publication in its international editions. I consent to allow other publications to reprint this article without compensation.
4. I understand that I am responsible for the veracity, accuracy, and source documentation of the material I provide in this manuscript.
5. I understand that I am responsible for ensuring my article maintains proper information and operational security. If applicable, I have submitted my article for review by competent authority, verifying no "spillover" of classified or sensitive information. Army Regulation 380-5 applies (available online).
6. Works submitted for the Future Warfare Writing Program must be connected in some way to possible future challenges or dilemmas the Army could face. Possible sources and ideas for these challenges can be found in documents such as the Army Warfighting Challenges, the U.S. Army War College Strategic Studies Institute Key Strategic Issues List, and the Army Operating Concept (links available on the FWWP page). Briefly explain the connection of the submitted work to a future Army challenge. Feel free to use an additional document, if needed.

7. A current biography () is attached or () will be forwarded.
8. Illustrations, photos, charts, or figures () are enclosed, () will be forwarded, () N/A.

Signature: _____ Date: _____

Mail to:

Army University Press
ATTN: Future Warfighting Writing
Program (FWWP)
290 Stimson Avenue, Unit 2
Fort Leavenworth, KS 66027-1293

Or email to:

usarmy.leavenworth.tradoc.mbx.army-press@mail.mil

The Army University Press
Biographical Information Sheet
(please type or print legibly)

1. Name _____ Rank _____ Service _____

2. E-mail Address _____

3. Home Phone _____ Office Phone _____

4. Mailing Address: _____

5. Current position (give title, unit, unit location):
(If civilian, give position, name of company, company location)

6. Please provide a brief biographical sketch. There is no need to include every detail, but mention your particular qualifications for the subject of your article. See the examples below.

Biographical Sketch Examples:

BG Huba Wass de Czege, U.S. Army, retired, was one of the principal developers of the Army's AirLand Battle concept and the founder and first director of the School of Advanced Military Studies, Fort Leavenworth, KS. He holds a B.S. from the United States Military Academy and an M.A. from Harvard University.

Cora Sol Goldstein is an associate professor of political science at California State University, Long Beach. Goldstein received her Ph.D. from the Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago. Her book, Capturing the German Eye: American Visual Propaganda in Occupied Germany (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2009), focuses on the U.S. experience in postwar Germany.

MAJ Jason M. Pape, U.S. Army, is a student at the School for Advanced Military Studies, Fort Leavenworth. He holds a B.S. from Michigan State University and an M.A. from Columbia University. His assignments include tours in Korea and the Middle East and deployments with OIF I and III.

Any additional information you would like to include can be listed on the back of this sheet.